

National Taiwan University-Kyoto University Symposium 2013

December 19th (Thursday) Conference Room, College of Liberal Arts
12:00 - 13:20	Registration
13:20 - 13:30	Opening Ceremony Opening Address by Jo-shui Chen (Dean, College of Liberal Arts, NTU)
Culture & Education
13:30 – 14:25	Chair: Shing-ching Shyu (Professor, Department of Japanese Language and Literature, NTU)
	Toshihiko Kishi (Professor, Center for Integrated Area Studies, KU) Popular Songs and Jazz Music in Wartime East Asia: Based on My Recent Work titled The East Asian Popular Songs Age: Cross-national Music and Intermingled Music Personnel
	Ying-fen Wang (Professor, Graduate Institute of Musicology, NTU) Sounding Taiwanese: A Preliminary Study on the Production Strategy of Taiwanese Records by Nippon Phonograph Company
14:25 – 15:20	Chair: Chin-jung Chiu (Professor, Department of Foreign Languages and Literatures, NTU; Deputy Dean, College of Liberal Arts)
	Shzh-chen-nancy Lee (Instructor, Institute for Liberal Arts and Sciences, KU) Japanese English Education: The Case Study of Kyoto University
	Yong-hway Hsi (Assistant Professor, Department of Foreign Languages and Literatures, NTU) Beyond Face-to-face Instruction: Facilitating English Learning at NTU
15:20 – 15:30	Break
Basic Philosophical Issues
15:30 - 16:25	Chair: Jeu-jenq Yuann (Professor, Department of Philosophy, NTU)
	Satoshi Kodama (Associate Professor, Graduate School of Letter, KU) Should We Suffer at All?
	Rong-lin Wang (Associate Professor, Department of Philosophy, NTU) On Kantian Moral Motivation
16:25 - 17:20	Chair: Tetuji Iseda (Associate Professor, Graduate School of Letter, KU)
	Daisuke Kaida (Lecturer, Graduate School of Letter, KU) The Invisibility of Mental Causation

	Duen-min Deng (Assistant Professor, Department of Philosophy, NTU) Essence and Individuation
December 20th (Thursday) Conference Room, College of Liberal Arts
Languages and Written Systems in East Asia
08:30 - 09:00	Registration
09:00 - 09:55	Chair: Ming-tzu Chen (Professor, Department of Japanese Language and Literature, NTU)
	Tetsuji Atsuji (Professor, Graduate School of Human and Environmental Studies, KU) On the Education of Kanji in Japan
	Fu-chang Hsu (Professor, Department of Chinese Literature, NTU; Deputy Dean, College of Liberal Arts) On Investigations of the Origins of Chinese Characters
09:55 - 10:50	Chair: Masashi Tsujimoto (Professor, Department of Japanese Language and Literature, NTU)
	Akiyoshi Kida (Professor, Graduate School of Letter, KU) On the History of Japanese Dictionary
	Chiou-er Ju (Professor, Department of Japanese Language and Literature, NTU) Traditional Encyclopedias (leishu , ruisho) in China and Japan
10:50 - 11:00	Break
11:00 - 12:00	General Discussion